> What makes a burger so special is that it can be enjoyed plain or topped with literally anything. I can eat a burger every single day and not have the same meal twice.

Dan joined the Firm in 2020 and brings nearly 20 years of experience in both public accounting and private industry. He has extensive experience serving nonprofit organizations and leads the Firm's Non-Profit Practice. In addition to his work with nonprofit clients, Dan serves a diverse range of industries, including manufacturing and distribution, consumer products, professional services, and employee benefit plan audits.

Outside The Office

Dan enjoys dining out with his family, listening to music of nearly any genre, and watching football and basketball.
