

JO Knows International Tax

JULY 16, 2024 | BY: THE LEADERSHIP TEAM

Navigating the complexities of international tax matters can be daunting, especially with the significant penalties associated with missed filings. We understand that many smaller CPA firms prefer to steer clear of these intricate issues, but at Johnson O'Connor, we are here to help.

Whether you're dealing with existing clients or prospective clients, our Firm can provide the expertise needed for any international tax challenges. I am reaching out to let you know that you can rely on us for assistance in this specialized area.

Here is how we can support you and your clients:

Exploring Subsidiaries in Another Country

- We offer guidance on establishing and managing subsidiaries abroad

Structuring U.S. Business with Foreign Owners

- Our team can help structure U.S. businesses with foreign ownership

Expanding Foreign Businesses into the U.S.

- This is our ideal client scenario, as these businesses typically need both SALT and international guidance. If you know of any attorneys assisting with setting up these businesses, we would appreciate an introduction.

Key Employees Working Internationally

- We can provide advice for key employees looking to move or work outside the U.S.

Foreign Reporting Tax Forms

- Assistance with preparing and reviewing the necessary foreign reporting tax forms.

Filing Delinquent International Tax Forms

- Help with filing overdue international tax forms to ensure compliance.

Connecting with International Resources

- Through our AGN network, we can connect clients with additional international resources.

At Johnson O'Connor, we are committed to simplifying the complexities of international tax for you and your clients. Let us work together to navigate these challenges smoothly.

Please feel free to reach out directly if you encounter any international tax issues or have clients needing specialized assistance. We are here to help and look forward to collaborating with you.
