“Favorite book would be Ella Minnow Pea by Mark Dunn. It's a clever epistolary novel (written as a series of letters) about a small island nation that worships the author of a pangram (sentence containing every letter of the alphabet). One day, in a storm, the letters start falling off the statue, and the governing council decide it must be a sign that the letters should no longer be used. A race begins for Ella and her family to save their language from diminishing to just LMNOP...even as the letters disappear from the chapters in the book.

Alexi joined the Firm in November 2025 as a Supervisor in the Tax Department. Alexi has 9 years of experience in public accounting.

Outside The Office

In her free time, Alexi enjoys listening to music and working on new craft projects such as knitting, quilting, canning, and broom-making. She also enjoys spending time with her Maine Coon cat.
