> A place I would love to travel to but never have been would be Europe. I like how the culture of each country is so unique, but they're all so close to each other. It lets you experience different cultures in a short amount of time.

Jeff joined the firm in 2013 as a staff accountant. He works both in tax and audit areas, working with clients in manufacturing, hospitality and real estate industries.

Outside The Office

Jeff currently resides in Dorchester and is an avid Boston sports fan. In addition, he likes to spend time traveling around the U.S.
